PROFILE

I help companies reduce operational chaos with clear systems, automation and thoughtful customer operations. My place is the intersection of people and technology. I guide customers, get software running on their side, and automate recurring work. Own AI tools live (Claude API, Cloudflare Workers) for B2B support and DACH SME onboarding, plus a documented client case (security score from 2 to 8.5 in 4 weeks). Foundation: 18 years of customer responsibility under high pressure and a completed vocational retraining in IT product management (Franklin Institute, 87/100). German native, English very good.
